

Now, according to CEO Henry Juskiewicz, agents of the United States government are bluntly informing them that they'd be better off shipping their manufacturing labor overseas.

In an interview with KMJ AM's "The Chris Daniel Show," Juskiewicz revealed some startling information.

CHRIS DANIEL: Mr. Juskiewicz, did an agent of the US government suggest to you that your problems would go away if you used Madagascar labor instead of American labor?

HENRY JUSKIEWICZ: They actually wrote that in a pleading.

CHRIS DANIEL: Excuse me?

HENRY JUSKIEWICZ: They actually wrote that it a pleading.

CHRIS DANIEL: That your problems would go away if you used Madagascar labor instead of our labor?

HENRY JUSKIEWICZ: Yes
