

Anonymous donor gives families of slain NYPD officers large donation

Saturday, 17 January 2015 23:07 -

An anonymous donor from Hong Kong has given the families of slain NYPD officers Wenjian Liu and Rafael Ramos $1 million.

Liu's father will get $100,000 a year for five years and Ramos' children now have a $500,000 education fund.

"In every tragedy, there are individuals who step forward and step up to the plate, and that's what this story is all about here today," said Michael Palladino, president of the NYPD's detectives union during a ceremony at union headquarters.
