

There will, to be sure, be more official announcements from those much closer to him, but I wanted to share with you that we have sadly lost yet another compatriot. Former FBI Agent In Charge, Ted L. Gunderson, transitioned from this world to the next at around 3:30pm on Sunday, July 31, 2011. Ted had been suffering off and on from cancer for roughly two and a half years, and he finally succumbed to it after being on life support for three weeks. He was 82.

Ted was, and is, a symbol of that which we should all strive. Yes, he was an "establishment man" for some time, but he, like so many of us, began the waking up process and went into action. The rewards of those efforts can be seen on every written report, tape and DVD recording of his many findings these past three decades. Unfortunately, his legacy was challenged near the end of his time on earth by parties that, it would now seem, have serious integrity issues themselves. Their actions, however, may end up being a symbolic blessing in disguise. This last ditch attempt to attack his credibility is a true badge of honor for a man whose work did, indeed, threaten the livelihoods of those we in the greater truth community work so hard to expose.
