

7.7-magnitude earthquake in Chile, tsunami warning lifted

Sunday, 25 December 2016 13:37 -

A 7.7-magnitude earthquake hit Chile Sunday. There were tsunami warnings, but they have been lifted.

The quake hit 150 miles southwest of Puerto Montt, at a depth of 9 miles, the U.S. Geological Survey reported.

Chile's national emergency office issued an alert and ordered an evacuation.
