

Big Pharma Money Spent on Marketing Exceeds Drug Development Costs

Sunday, 24 February 2008 12:07 -

While knowing that the pharmaceutical industry spends nearly U.S. $57.5 billion on marketing and U.S. $31.5 billion on R&D, those that believe the industry is promotion based, and not entirely altruistic as the industry claims, have some proof to this claim.

More...