

In the first of an expected avalanche of post-election regulations, the Bush administration on Friday narrowed the scope of services that can be provided to poor people under Medicaid's outpatient hospital benefit.

More...

TVNL Comment: Another part of the Bush legacy: bail out the rich, screw the poor!