

The American occupation forces, and the occupation-assigned Iraqi government, grossly failed to fulfill their most basic duties towards the children of Iraq in accordance with the UN/CRC Convention on the Rights of the Child, Resolution 25/ Session 44, November 1989. The convention was ratified by 194 United Nations countries, except the USA and Somalia.

Numerous violations of Iraqi children's rights have systematically and continuously been committed under the American occupation of Iraq.

We will show that the American occupation violated children's rights on all levels, including health care, education, social security, family unity and the non separation of children from their parents through detention, imprisonment and exile.
