

A former senior FBI agent involved in the interrogation of captured Al-Qaida operative Abu Zubaydah told a Senate panel Wednesday that the use of harsh techniques to extract information was "slow, ineffective and unreliable."

More....

TVNL Comment: See if this testimony is aired a fraction as often as Dick Cheney's support of torture techniques.