

A Catholic religious order is to supply a 161m euros (£145m) package of measures as reparation for child abuse in Ireland.

The Christian Brothers said the decision had been taken in response to the Ryan report which revealed decades of abuse at religious institutions.

TVNL Comment: More virtues of organized religion. But it is the athiests who are the evil ones, right?

More...