

Yet the information on the trafficking of young people for sex within Britain is so scant that experts say the first official figures confirming the trade – seen by The Independent on Sunday – are just "the very, very tip of the iceberg". Figures from the UK Human Trafficking Centre for April 2009 to March 2010 show only 38 Britons were registered as victims. This comes after a snapshot survey by the children's charity Barnardo's revealed it worked with 609 sexually exploited children last year, of whom 90 appeared to have been trafficked within the UK.

There has still not been one prosecution for trafficking Britons within the UK. And, despite mounting evidence of the scourge, a police report into trafficking to be released this week, called Project Acumen, chose not to assess the scale of trafficking of British nationals. Of the British women they did interview, they decided none exhibited "the dimensions of the trafficking definition".

Sheila Taylor, chair of the National Working Group for Sexually Exploited Children and Young People, said: "What we're seeing is the tip of the iceberg. This is happening in all cities and many towns. There has been no prosecution of those who sexually exploit children with trafficking legislation."

TVNL Comment: Pedophilia related blackmail is a controlling factor among the ruling elite. It has been for years. There have been many whistle blowers. Check our video gallery for a great deal of information on this. From the Vatican to the White House homosexual and pedophilia related blackmail bonds the silence of the establishment. This is why they can not, or at least refuse to hold each other accountable for high crimes. This is why the events of 9/11, or the starting of an obviously illegal war based on a multitude of exposed and proven lies will never lead to accountability. The people in charge of accountability are all compromised one way or another.

Revealed: The horrific trade in British children for sex
