

Link below to view the wonderful images from around the nation and around the world that show the power of young voices for change. The March for Our Lives featured amazing speeches by students who made history today, and who will be remembered for their determination and a relentless will to force new legislation to stop the carnage that has taken over the United States.

Link to NYT photos here.