

Americans believe these lies not because they are stupid, but because they are good media consumers. Our media have become an echo chamber for those in power. More...